Software created by Kieran Wright

You require the Class 801 from Steam (East Coast Main Line South), Armstrong Powerhouse Class 800–803 Enhancement Pack, and an active Subscription to Alan Thomson Sim.

For installation of the ATS Launcher, please see its respective manual.

Usage

Using the new ATS Announcement Software is nice and simple for the end user - we've done the hard work.

- 1. Open the ATS Launcher, and log in.
- 2. Launch Train Simulator.
- 3. From the home screen, click 'ATS Announcements' (see below).

You will then be presented with the Train Operating Company Selection Screen (or TOC Selection Screen)

4. Select the TOC; in this case LNER (see next page). It's a good idea to start loading the scenario in TS at this point.

Once LNER has been selected, you will be presented with the Rolling Stock Selection Screen.

5. Select the Azuma. This will take you to the following screen:

6. Ensure the destination on the train is set to correspond with the PIS Code (e.g. using PIS Code 1005, the unit destination must be York).

From the above screen, you are able to select the route and PIS (Passenger Information System) Code. In this Demo a small sample is provided for you to use.

7. Select one of the codes from the drop down menu, and hit 'Confirm'.

To change PIS Code, either close and reopen the Launcher, or simply click the 'Cancel' button and select another.

TaDa!

This pack is a demo of how the new software will work. We may produce more packs in future, and/or add new features to packs.

If you were wondering, yes it does work in Quick Drive/Free Roam too. You must have the destination set on the train to match the PIS Code, else it won't work.
